DYBS

- Diversify Your BookShelf presents the user with a curated list of children's books featuring diverse characters or written by authors from a minority group.
- Created the front end using Bulma as a framework. My goal was to create a simple interface with sharp contrast for a dynamic experience.
- Together with a team of three others, we used Google Books API to filter through children's books featuring diversity. We dynamically created a card for each book that features the cover, title, author, and summary. The user can add the book to their "bookshelf" which then saves to local storage a list of books they are interested in.
